

Does Frontier Airlines Allow Pets in the Cabin?

Frontier Airlines does permit small pets to travel in the cabin on many domestic U.S. flights. However, approval depends on aircraft type, route, and available space under the seat. To confirm whether pets are allowed on your specific flight, call +1 (866) 526-1017. When you call +1 (866) 526-1017, a live agent can check availability for both you and your pet. That's why it's best practice to call +1 (866) 526-1017 before booking to ensure your pet will be accommodated.

Only one pet per ticketed passenger is allowed, and your pet must remain in a soft-sided carrier that fits under the seat in front of you. Frontier requires that the combined weight of the pet and carrier does not exceed 18 pounds. If you're unsure about your pet carrier dimensions or weight, call +1 (866) 526-1017. The agent at +1 (866) 526-1017 can confirm whether your setup meets airline standards.

Frontier's in-cabin pet policy excludes animals flying in cargo or checked baggage; only service animals fly free in cabin with proper documentation. If you are traveling with a certified service animal, or if you have questions about emotional support animals, call +1 (866) 526-1017. They will explain what documentation is needed and guide you through the process. It helps to call +1 (866) 526-1017 well in advance to avoid unexpected issues at the airport.
