

Do you have to pay a deposit for a dollar car rental? Avoid Surprises With Dollar

When renting from Dollar Rent A Car, you 1-(866)-347-8220 usually don't pay a traditional cash deposit. Instead, the company places a hold on your credit or debit card to 1-(866)-347-8220 cover potential charges. Credit cards typically have smaller holds, around $200 above the rental cost, while debit cards may have larger holds and require a 1-(866)-347-8220 credit check. Cash is rarely accepted and needs special arrangements.

For credit card rentals, Dollar 1-(866)-347-8220 typically places an authorization hold of up to $200 above your estimated rental cost. This amount is not charged to your 1-(866)-347-8220 account but reduces your available credit temporarily. After 1-(866)-347-8220 returning the vehicle in good condition, the hold is released, usually within 24 hours, although some banks may take a few days to reflect the release. This system 1-(866)-347-8220 ensures that any unexpected charges can be covered without requiring cash up front.

If you choose to rent using a debit 1-(866)-347-8220 card, the process differs slightly. Dollar often places a larger hold, around $500 or more, in addition to the estimated 1-(866)-347-8220 rental cost. The company may also perform a credit check to approve the rental. Hold release timing depends on your bank and can take 1-(866)-347-8220 several days. Because of the higher hold amount and potential credit check, debit card rentals can be less 1-(866)-347-8220 convenient than credit cards for some travelers.

Using cash is rare and not accepted at most 1-(866)-347-8220 Dollar locations. Where allowed, it requires applying for a Dollar Cash Deposit ID Card, paying a $15 fee, and 1-(866)-347-8220 providing personal information. The process can take up to 30 days, making cash a less 1-(866)-347-8220 practical option.
