Plumbing Challenges in Castro's Older Homes

Vintage homes in the Castro often have original or outdated plumbing infrastructure, which can lead to:

-  Galvanized or lead piping
-  Low water pressure
-  Old water heaters or boilers
-  Hidden leaks in plaster walls or crawlspaces
-  Clogged or fragile cast-iron sewer lines
-  Outdated gas lines
-  Non-compliant fixtures or valves

These systems were not designed for modern usage—and improper work can damage your property or violate San Francisco building codes.

 Protect your home with skilled help: +1-844-366-4725

Common Signs of Aging Plumbing in Castro Homes

If your plumbing is original or hasn't been updated in decades, here are warning signs that it's time to call a licensed plumber:

-  Sudden drops in water pressure
-  Discolored or metallic-tasting water
-  Recurring leaks in walls or floors
-  Inconsistent water temperature
-  Musty smells (hidden moisture)
-  Knocking or hissing noises in pipes
-  Plumbing over 40–50 years old

Don't wait until something bursts. We'll inspect your entire system and recommend solutions that blend safety, efficiency, and long-term value.
